

VACCINATION FOR DOGS

In some southern states, particularly Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas, large scale vaccination of dogs has brought a marked reduction in cases of rabies.

New State Rights Bill Will Be Offered Congress

Expressing disappointment at President Truman's recent veto of the Tidelands bill, U. S. Senator William F. Knowland of California predicted this week that a new bill "to protect the sovereignty of the state" and maintain ownership of these coastal oil lands would be introduced at the next session of Congress.

The Senator was in Southern California over the weekend with his wife, Helen, to attend the eighth annual national aquaplane races at Hermosa and Manhattan Beaches. It was his first visit to the Southland since Congress adjourned.

LAWN CLIPPINGS SAVE FEED

A small handful—not over an ounce—of fresh green lawn clippings fed daily to a hen will save 10 per cent of the grain and mash and not reduce egg production, says L. D. Sanborn, assistant farm advisor in Los Angeles county.

Adventists Yearly Convocation In Lynwood Aug. 16

Southland Seventh-day Adventists now are building their temporary tent city in preparation for their annual convocation in Lynwood, just south of Los Angeles. The old-fashioned camp meeting which will begin on August 16 and continue for ten days will be complete with tents, cafeteria, early morning devotional meetings and nightly evangelistic addresses. The meeting is a revival of the type of religious meeting peculiar to the great religious awakening of the early part of the last century. Some 15,000 people are expected to congregate on the camp grounds for the event. Members of local churches are preparing to attend the convocation, reports Elder David Voth, president of the Southern California conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

Church Groups Plan Religious Education Week

Emphasizing the importance of Christian teaching in building permanent foundations for peace, Protestant churches and other religious agencies of rural and urban areas of the United States and Canada will join forces in the 16th annual observance of Religious Education Week, Sept. 29-Oct. 6. It was announced by Dr. Roy G. Ross, general secretary, International Council of Religious Education, sponsor of the program.

Using the theme, "God's Word for Today," 40 Protestant denominations and 173 state, city and provincial councils of churches and religious education will cooperate for church and community observances, he stated.

"Making secure the peace we have won is the overwhelming concern which confronts our western world today," Dr. Ross declared in announcing the observance. "Our apprehension at the precariousness of our diplomatic relationships, our uneasiness over domestic economic conflicts, and our concern about racial tensions are all a part of this insistent problem."

"While the Christian faith does not pretend to have specific answers to involved social problems, it does declare that men must have respect for each other. It insists that we approach these intricate problems as Christian brothers. Only so will the solutions to our problems of peace be found," Dr. Ross averred.

In most towns and cities Rally or Promotion Day will open Religious Education Week, stressing an increase of enrollment and attendance. Community interest will be developed through launching of leadership education schools on Monday, family nights on Tuesday, interchurch fellowship meetings Thursday, and denominational or interchurch youth rallies on Friday. The week's observance will climax on World Communion Sunday with emphasis on worldwide Christian unity.

Elks Convention Delayed Until October 9-11

Dates for the 1946 Elks State Convention originally scheduled to be held here September 25 to 27 have been changed to October 9 to 11, according to Horace R. Wisely, president of the California Elks Association.
